Peak call volumes

Busy team members

Outside business hours

Turn conversations into follow-up tasks.

CallR captures agreements and creates the next actions for the sales rep.

Conversation

The customer and rep discuss the request.

Summary

CallR captures the key points and agreements.

Tasks in the tracker

The rep receives the agreed next actions.

Reps continue the customer relationship instead of copying notes.

Review calls against your own checklist.

Incoming and outgoing call recordings. A dedicated agent for each criterion.

Example criteria

Customer needs

What did the rep learn about the customer?

The offer

How clearly were the terms explained?

Objections

How were customer concerns addressed?

Next step

What happens after the call?

The output: a call review with feedback on each evaluation criterion.

Your sales manager sets the rules.

- ✓ We configure it for you
We turn company guidelines into call review criteria.
- ✓ Your manager updates the criteria
The sales manager adjusts the agents' evaluation rules.
- ✓ Agents apply the updated rules
Each agent reviews its part of the conversation.

Auto leasing: from call to next step.

A customer calls a sales rep to ask about leasing terms.
